

Bidfresh statement about the new Corona virus- Covid-19

Financial T&C's

We are in unprecedented and extremely challenging times with COVID-19 impacting all sectors of the hospitality and catering industries. During this time we will endeavour to continue our service as normal to our customers and are working closely with our supply partners in an attempt to ensure continuation of supply wherever possible across our range.

In order to continue to maintain the highest levels of service and availability as possible we must continue to work with both our customers and suppliers on our current payment terms.

We recognise that we will all face challenges over the coming weeks and although we are not in a position to offer extended terms, we are able to offer;

- Acceptance of credit / purchasing cards with no charge
- Offset of any rebates earned to date against due balances

Along with this, the government have announced a number of measures aimed to support businesses, these are changing rapidly but some helpful links below;
